

Starview Packaging Machinery, Inc Press Release

November 25th, 2019

It is with great excitement that Starview Packaging Machinery, Inc announces the acquisition of Visual Packaging LP USA (www.visualpackaging.com).

This newest addition to the Starview Group will enable us to take the best ideas from both business units and continue to produce the most complete and advanced line of packaging machinery in the industry. Visual has a rich history of more than 45 years in providing customers with packaging solutions.

Starview Packaging Machinery is the leading designer and manufacturer of plastic and carded packaging machinery, with manufacturing facilities now in both the USA & Canada to better serve the North American market. Starview offers the most complete line of standard and customized machines for blister and clamshell packaging, medical and pharmaceutical packaging, Stretch Pak and skin packaging; as well as food tray packaging. Equipment models range from table top to fully integrated automated systems.

Complete product information can be found at www.starview.net.

For additional information please contact: Eric Carlomusto, Vice President, Sales & Marketing of Starview.

He can be reached at 888-278-5555 ext. 224 or email Eric at eric@starview.net
