

Starview's MSP Series Skin Packaging Machine Upgrade

Starview Packaging Machinery is proud to announce the latest machine model upgrade to their extensive line-up of packaging equipment.

"Our MSP Series of Table Top Skin Packaging Machines are now PLC controlled with a color HMI interface to enhance the operator experience. In addition, we have added the next generation tubular quartz heating system. These upgrades give more control to the process, longer life components and better information to the user.", stated Eric Carlomusto, VP, Sales and Marketing. He added, "We are consistently reviewing what additional options and upgrades we can add to our machines and tooling to meet customer needs."

Starview Packaging Machinery, Inc COVID-19 update

Starview is up and running during the Covid-19 pandemic. Team members who can work remotely are doing so and others are at the plant and office caring for your needs. We have continued operations with enhanced cleaning procedures, no travel policy, screening of vendors, keeping staff at home if they are ill and safe distancing in the facility.

Our sales and internal teams are actively working and ready to support you. We have seen a variation in demand as well as supply and are doing everything to keep actively producing and shipping from our facility. We remain committed to servicing our customers and keeping our employees safe. Thank you for your continued support and business.
